JOHANN LOETZ WITWE (AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN, 1836-1947): A bohemian iridescent glass vase, of naturalistic tulip form, with applied tendrils on a circular foot

Condition Report

The exterior of the vase is in good condition, with loose dirt overall and a white residue to the foot, it would appreciate a wash. The interior appears to be coated with a bloom which could be the result of water residue in the vase, which would probably wash off with careful cleaning.
