Inlaid Automata Longcase Clock by J. Houlden, Kendal.

A MAHOGANY AND INLAID AUTOMATA LONGCASE
CLOCK BY J HOULDEN, KENDAL,

the hood with a swan neck pediment above arched glazed door flanked by fluted columns, the trunk with a shaped door flanked by fluted pilasters, on a plinth base, the brass dial with an automata globe to the arch framed by a calendar ring, above Roman and Arabic numeral chapter ring, with matt engraved centre, with date aperture, flanked by figural spandrels and dolphin, with key and two weights, 214cm high

The case for this clock and hood is a little dull, but mostly structurally sound. There are some cracks to the hood and there is a long crack and old repairs to the back plate. There is a 10cm long crack to the door that will need re-gluing.

The dial is generally dull and in need of some attention.
